Tuesday 19th July: History and nature

Castel Stenico

Standing atop a rocky buttress and dominating the whole valley, this imposing mediaeval fortress, elegant Renaissance home and Austro-Hungarian barracks during World War I is one of the best preserved castles in the whole of Trentino.

Ethnographic Museum “Par Ieri”

The stories of the past told by the “Par Ieri” Ethnographic Museum. Located at the foot of the castle, it features 3,000 objects from local culture. A trove of authentic life stories.

Rio Bianco waterfall

The waters of the Rio Bianco waterfall are as white as snow. From the castle, you can see them in the distance and hear their roar. But it is from the bridge above the cascade that you really appreciate their raw power. But be aware! This is only a temporary waterfall. It doesn't flow in autumn and winter, before exploding into life in summer with bright white water that plummets noisily, bringing cool refreshment. This is why the plants and flowers thrive in the nearby botanical garden, within the boundaries of the Adamello Brenta Natural Park protected area.

Departure from the hotel at 14.00, return to the hotel at 19.00

Cost: € 30,00 pro person (all inclusive)

Thursday 21st July: Val Genova and the Geopark

S. Stefano church

S. Stefano church is an evocative church on a rock crag, overlooking the whole valley. The southern part is entirely frescoed by Simone Baschenis paintings; Danza Macabra is the main subject, together with the seven deadly sins (1519-1532). Inside, there are frescos of varied periods like San Cristoforo depiction, on the left side of the outer steps. The church is gothic on Romanesque structure, and has a bell tower with Romanesque mullioned window with two lights. According to tradition, it was built in an area where previously a castle was destroyed by Carlo Magno.

Nardis waterfall and Val Genova

Together with the Vallesinella falls, the majestic Nardis falls as you enter Val Genova are certainly among the most famous of the Adamello-Brenta Nature Park and can be photographed directly from the base of the falls themselves. Val Genova is the alpine valley that rises from Carisolo, in Val Rendena and separates the Adamello and Presanella massifs. For a century and a half, it has enchanted travelers and mountaineers from all over the world for its grandiose natural scenery: wild slopes covered with woods, inaccessible cliffs, green enchanted plateaus, dizzy waterfalls, immaculate glaciers.

Geopark

The “Geopark” Park House, in Carisolo, offers to everyone the chance to better understand the Park Geology through multimedia supports. Also the videos on the maxiscreen are great! They invite people to go and see the rocks that, in 2008, allowed the Adamello Brenta Nature Park to be recognized as a “Geopark” internationally speaking. The great element of the display is the reconstruction of a karstic cavern with real sounds.

Departure from the hotel at 14.00, return to the hotel at 19.00

Cost: € 25,00 pro person (all inclusive)

Friday 22nd July: From Dolomites to Garda Lake

The Bastione

The Bastione, in grey stone, situated at the foot of Mount Rocchetta, is one Riva del Garda’s symbols, dominion of the city and the Lake Garda. It was built in the early XVI century, when the Venetian domination over Riva ceased, to guarantee more security to the underlying village and its inhabitants. It was destroyed in 1703 by the French troops under leadership of general Vendôme undermining the main body and making it unusable. A brand-new panoramic lift connects the historic centre of Riva del Garda with the Venetian Bastion in just two minutes, to admire the magnificent panorama on Garda Lake.

Riva del Garda

The scents in Riva del Garda are of olive oil, lemon juice, bay leaves and fine wine, mountain traditions and Mediterranean ease. Nestling between Lake Garda and the Brenta Dolomites, Riva del Garda is the very epicentre of Garda Trentino: a charming little town that ascends the rugged cliffs. And there is plenty to be found there – climbing and kitesurfing, art exhibitions and open-air concerts, cheese tastings and winery visits. Let your gaze roam over the glittering mirror of the lake, aperitive in hand, and simply allow the esprit, style and vibrancy of this unique location to take effect. Welcome to Riva del Garda – life at its sweetest!

Cantina Toblino: the wines of the Valle dei Laghi

Since 1960 Cantina Toblino has been producing white, red and rosé wines, Trento Doc, the “Selezioni Vént” line and the exclusive Vino Santo thanks to the precious work of the winemakers who carry on over time the millenary winemaking tradition of the Valle dei Laghi.

Departure from the hotel at 09.00, return to the hotel at 19.00

Cost: € 50,00 pro person (lunch not included)
